

A woman with long, wavy brown hair is sitting on a light-colored wicker chair. She is wearing a white long-sleeved top with intricate black embroidery on the neckline and cuffs. Her skirt is white with a wide, black and white patterned border. A matching patterned shawl is draped over her lap. She is wearing large, ornate earrings and a ring. The background shows an outdoor setting with other wicker chairs and a table.

 trol of her own life?
 It was inevitable that arrangements for it was made by her own hand for the purpose of doing good and that "through the power of the pen" it will appear to her that many of the good and evil things in the world have been brought about by some of her
